SHOOK HIS FIST

John O'Donnell, Angered by Announcement, Created Scene at . Opening of Parliament.

SUSPENDED BY A LARGE VOTE.

Premier Ruled That Irish Affairs Would Not Be Considered Except by Courtesy of Liberal Leaders.

SPECIAL BY CABLE. London, Oct. 16.-Parliament opened to day with an uproarious session. Shortly after the body was assembled Premier Pal four angered the Irish members by asserting that any measure affecting Ireland would not receive consideration unless it was presented by the Liberal leaders. He declared the Parliament had more important matters for consideration.

It provoked a perfect storm of indigna tion from the Irish representatives, and in the scene which followed John O'Dennell, conspicuous Irish leader, strode up before Say Their Names Are Being Used the Premier and, shouting deflance, shook his fist in Mr. Balfour's face. For a moment it appeared there would be an out-break, but O'Donnell returned to his sext. sistants are anxious to learn the tientity Afterwards he left the hall and was sus- of the persons who are selling tickets to the

Patrick O'Brien, sitting in the place usually cocupied by John Redmond, the Irish leader in the House, asked that at least a day being the House, asked that the House, asked that at least a day being the House, asked that at least a day being the House, asked that at least a day being the House, asked that at least a day being the House, asked that at least a day being the House, asked that at least a day being the House, asked the Ho discussion of the serious state of affairs in Ireland. Mr. Balfour replied that if the request for such an opportunity came from the Liberal leaders the Government would grant it but they could not notice it from MRS. MUSLER SEEKS DIVORCE. the Irish party. ON VERGE OF REVOLT

William O'Brien thereupon made an impassioned speach, warning the House that Ireland was on the verge of revolt. The Constitution, he said, was practically suspended, and now the members were gagged the only Parliament they had. Throughout Mr. O'Bricc's remarks the Irish members kept up a perfect storm of applause. When Mr. Wyndham, the Chief Secretary for Ireland, entered the House, the Irish members hissed him loudly, and the speaker, who was frequently on his feet asking for order, sternly repressed the dom-

Mr. Lloyd George, backed up by Irish members, and T. P. O'Connor, brought the excitement to a fever heat, bitterly upbraiding Mr. Balfour for declaring that Irish matters must only be discussed by favor of the English Liberals.

During the afternoon the Speaker's ruling raised renewed clamor from the Irish benches, Threats from the Irish benches became more and more audible. The climax spectedly. Mr. Healy, amidst intense excitement, said:

"I rise to speak as a native of Ugandi," and then in a speech which on all sides was | Ten characterized as one of the finest satires ever heard in the House of Commons, Mr. Healy thanked the Premier for his consideration, which enabled the Imperial Parliament to devote time to the discussion of native affairs. He complimented Mr. Balfour on being able sufficiently to detach himself so as to be oblivious of the vital disturbances prevailing in "that distant and distressful country, Ireland."

WOULD STRIKE A BLOW. Other Nationalist members continued the debate flercely, declaring that Irish affairs were at present more important to England than any of the matters men-tioned in Mr. Balfour's programme. William Redmond regretted that the Irish people could not, "with orms in hands, strike a blow against the violent tyranny, to which they were subjected." Mr. Balfour's motion was then carried by a vote of 262 to 145 and the house went into committee on the education bill. Ultimately,Mr. Balfour moved the closure and the uproar broke out again with renewed vigor. O'Donnell stood up and refused to give way to the speaker. His fellow Nationalists shouted encouragement and cheered vigorously. The speaker repeatedly warned Mr. O'Dennell that he was out of order and an exciting scene followed. Mr. Balfour moved the suspension of Mr. O'Donnell and the latter crossed the floor, stood in front of the Premier shouted defiance and shook his fist in Balfour's face. The House suspended Mr. O'Donnell by a vote of 341 to $1. Mr. O'Donnell's suspension will probably be for only a week, as the new rules increasing the penalties for disorderly behavior have not yet been passed.

LARGEST IN ITS HISTORY. Missouri University Eurollment Reaches 1,556 Students.

Columbia, Mo., Oct. 16.-The enrollment of the State University of Missouri since last mencement has reached 1,556, which is the largest in the history of the institution. The attendance in the law department has fallen off slightly because the course has been increased to three years. The larger enrollment in the academic engineering, mining and other courses however, more than offsets this slight decrease.

United States of America, hoping that ultimately the mother and the daughter may class hands in oneness of effort for the glory of God.

We deplore any form of agitation on this subject that might produce dissention, or that might distract the attention of the church from the enviating principles involved or may magnify into insues? things that are only of secondary consequence or mothers, we resommend to our people a calm and dignified consideration of all the important matters involved in this subject. God and the salvation of the world.

Your committee, therefore, most respectfully recummends that you do memorialize the General Assembly to adopt ruch measures and appoint such agencies as may seem desirable for the accomplishment of these ends, under the guidance of the Holy Spirit, An the honor of Christ and to the spread of his glorious kingdom, thus extending a fraterial hand to our brethren of the Freshyterian Church of the
